

KIRK MASSEY

Missionary Kirk Massey, Jr. serves at The Lutheran Church of the Open Bible in Whiteriver, Ariz., and Shepherd in the Pines in McNary, Ariz. He has been serving there since 2015. He graduated from the Native Christian's Apache Christian Training School in 2014 and the Pastoral Studies Institute (PSI) in 2015.

Missionary Massey and his wife, Sheree, previously served as staff ministers at East Fork Lutheran High School, and he previously served as the Native American Field Coordinator. Prior to serving, Missionary Massey worked on a couple of research projects with the Centers for American Indian Health, a satellite project under John Hopkins University.

They have five children. Michael (25) is in the tribal workforce. Marcus (19) is in his second year at Northern Arizona University studying finance. Leah (14) is a freshman at Arizona Lutheran Academy. Lindsey (12) is in 7th grade and Meghan (7) is in 2nd grade at East Fork Lutheran School. Sheree is working as Project Coordinator for the Apache Kingdom Workers.
