

After graduating from Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary in 1997, Missionary Luke Wolfgramm was assigned to Novosibirsk, Russia, where he served for 25 years. He is now living in Leipzig, Germany.

Missionary Wolfgramm maintains regular online contact with three national pastors and one seminary student serving Concord Evangelical Lutheran Church in Russia. As of March 2022, he has begun working more directly with our mission churches in Albania and Bulgaria and spending time with independent sister churches in Europe. His visits strengthen WELS fellowship with pastors and congregations who are often small and isolated. Missionary Wolfgramm is exploring partnership with the ELFK, WELS' sister church in Germany, to enhance ministerial education, leadership, mentoring, and pastoral wellness throughout Europe.

Missionary Wolfgramm is married to Jennifer, who loves to work with music and help people get more involved with their congregations. She travels with Missionary Wolfgramm to build friendships with the women of our sister churches. The Wolfgramms have three children. Christina lives in Waukesha, Wis., and works as a drafter at a construction company. Katie and her husband live in Milwaukee, Wis., as Katie works as a mechanical engineer. Peter is senior at Fox Valley Lutheran High School and lives with Missionary Wolfgramm's brother and family in Appleton.
